Youtech & Associates Continues Its Widespread Expansion

NAPERVILLE, IL; February 18, 2016 – Youtech & Associates Inc., an integrated marketing & design agency founded by young entrepreneur Wilbur You, has announced its successful expansion to a brand-new office in Naperville in addition to their planned national growth.

The 6,000 square-foot space adds a new dimension to Youtech, as the company now has the opportunity to spread its wings and acquire the new staff members it needs for its ever-expanding business ventures both locally and nationally.

Youtech is also set to extend its reach to Dallas in the coming weeks. Future plans involve expansions to Chicago, Los Angeles, and other major cities. The organization is now hiring for a variety of positions in marketing, content generation, SEO/paid search, web development, and sales.

The business has come a long way from its humble beginnings: a working space in CEO Wilbur You's basement. In just three-and-a-half short years, the firm has catapulted to the top of the Chicagoland marketing scene & design scene where it currently sits as the 9th ranked responsive design firm in the nation.

The rankings, issued by TopDesignFirms.com, take into account mobile website rankings, traffic, and sales generated by responsive websites. Youtech & Associates was the only Illinois firm to make the list.

Youtech has helped everyone from small businesses to big corporations and celebrities in the creation of their respective brands. The business prides itself on returning all marketing dollars in the form of an investment while building an empire for each and every client.

You and Trent Anderson, another young business executive from Youtech, are planning on running for Naperville City Council in the next election.
